The senior open division team won the World Championship for Doubles and received first place trophies and world jackets. The Senior Division also placed 2nd for the singles competition and received second place trophies.

Council Reception Honors Retiree Barbara Havekost

by Virginia Beauchamp

A large group of admirers and supporters of the retiring Director of Human Resources for the city, Barbara Havekost, gathered at the regular City Council meeting on June 16 to praise her and her many contributions over years of service both in her career and her volunteer work. Among these were Mary Linstrom representing the Catholic Community of Greenbelt; Lee Shields, speaking for the Friends of the Greenbelt Museum; former city manager James K. Giese, who hired and promoted Havekost; former mayor Gil Weidenfeld; every member of the current city council; and former city clerk Dorothy Lauber. Mayor Antoinette Bram summed up the outpouring of feelings when she said, "The city doesn't have a clue yet how much they will miss Barbara."

Lauber had earlier provided her own summary by quoting some lines from Wallace Stegner: "Friendship is a relationship that has no formal shape, there are no rules or obligations or bonds as in marriage or the family. It is held together by neither law nor property nor blood, there is no glue in it but mutual liking. It is therefore rare."

"There is mutual liking between Barbara and a whole swarm of people," Lauber continued in her own words, shortly before those attending the program broke away from the formal part of the meeting to share cake and refreshments with the honoree.

60th Anniversary

The meeting then resumed on another festive note - a report from the committee planning the 60th anniversary celebration next fall for the city of Greenbelt. Being planned are a Friday evening ceremony, a luncheon for Greenbelt pioneers, and a tea dance on Sunday. Describing these events in turn were Clayton McCarl, Robert Sommers and Donnie Wolfe, with committee chair Emory Harman providing a wrap-up.

Petition on Sidewalks

A more serious issue was then introduced by a resident of the Lawrence apartments on Crescent Rd., two of the original buildings of Greenbelt, which are located between Southway and the library underpass. Representing other tenants, many of whom are now elderly and disabled, Cherrylin Hinostrza asked council to consider approving what she called "lead sidewalks" from the several doorways of each building directly to the street.

At present short walks connect each entryway with a long sidewalk paralleling the street but some 15 to 20 feet away from

by Diane Oberg

At a June 16 worksession, the members of the Greenbelt City Council met to begin considering whether to transfer control over some city land to an outside agency to ensure that it is not developed.

Community Planner Terri Hruby, at council's request, has researched the possibility of granting an environmental easement. The most likely land for such an easement is the city woodlands between Ridge Road and the Baltimore-Washington Parkway (Parcels 1 and 2).

There are already some protections on the land due to the partial financing provided by the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission and the National Park Service. However, Councilmember Rodney Roberts worried that a future council could eliminate these provisions by repaying the funding. While all five councilmembers agree that the land should not be developed, they are searching for a way to make their commitments more permanent. Any laws passed by council can be changed by a future council.

Permanent Restriction

Hruby explained that an environmental easement is a restriction that landowners may voluntarily put upon their land, usually in return for a tax break, that permanently limits the use of the land. Few governments have granted environmental easements, as they would not benefit from the tax break provisions. However, she reported that the Maryland Environmental Trust encourages donations by governments.

Generally, a property owner would donate the easement to an organization such as the Maryland Environmental Trust, often in partnership with a more local organization. The trust organizations then have the right and responsibility to enforce the easement. They generally inspect the property, at least once a year, to ensure compliance with the easement. The easement becomes part of the property records, and is binding upon future owners.

Future Changes?

Mayor Antoinette Bram asked what would happen if the city were to grant an easement to the state-funded Maryland Environmental Trust, then find that a future state administration changed the organization's approach or stopped funding it. Hruby noted that the restriction would be part of the deed, and said that the mayor's concern is "another reason" for having two organization involved—it is unlikely that both would fail.

Cybercafe Marks Group's Birthday.com

by Matt Elliott

On April 2, 1996 the first meeting was held of what was to become the Greenbelt Internet Access Cooperative (GIAC), better known as Greenbelt.com. After a year, it was time for an anniversary party. This celebration was held on Saturday, April 19 at the New Deal Cafe.

Several members turned out to the party. Doug Love, whose idea it was to start the group, set up his computer to turn the New Deal Cafe into a cybercafe for the evening. This allowed members and visitors alike to "surf the web" throughout the evening. The Greenbelt page, which members of the group have set up, was admired by several people. Members also showed some of their own pages, which also received compliments. Some visitors used the opportunity to view sites of friends in other parts of the country.

Dan Macy, the group's president, interrupted the party briefly to make a special presentation. Neil McLeod, GIAC's treasurer, received an award for Member of the Year. Later, a toast of sparkling apple cider was offered to a successful first year and hopes for many more.

Greenbelt.com will co-sponsor a free class with the Greenbelt Library on Monday, July 21. This class will be held at the library, and will start at 7 p.m. The subject of the class will be "HTML Basics". Reservations are not required, but are requested if possible; reservations can be made by telephoning 301-345-7783.

Community Center Darkroom to Open

by Virginia Beauchamp

With a decision by the Greenbelt City Council to approve a two-year agreement with A. P. Bowling & Associates, Inc., under Paul Bowling, photographer, the Greenbelt Community Center will offer a new facility for the use and pleasure of Greenbelters and residents of nearby communities. This will be a photographic darkroom, to be known as the Community Darkroom, that will be located on the second floor of the building near the frame shop and museum office.

According to the terms of the agreement, Bowling will invest $6,050 in equipment and materials to operate the facility. The city, for its part, expects to invest from $600 to $800 to make the space ready, especially by hooking up the sink and correcting some lighting problems. The city will also furnish utilities and general building maintenance support.

As rental, Bowling has agreed to pay the city 5% of gross income from rental of the space. Both by-the-hour and yearly fees will be charged, which are projected to raise a minimum of $2500 annually for the city. The facility will thus operate in a manner similar to the pottery studio, which is already in use within the Community Center.

Program Plans

The program to be offered is intended to provide comprehensive darkroom experiences for persons with all levels of skills and ability. It will be overseen by a supervisory committee composed of the Community Center Supervisor, a member of the Greenbelt Photography Club, and an employee of the darkroom. Classes and workshop times under trained teachers will be set up to provide maximum use of the facility.

The agreement calls for the provision of black and white development services. These will be made available for individual use, both on a walk-in and pre-scheduled basis, when classes are not in session. Bowling & Associates will be responsible for keeping equipment regularly cleaned and maintained and for supplying fresh chemicals and other photographic materials.

The new facility is expected to become operational by the end of June. In the meantime workers are readying the space, setting up an interior wall, and putting in lights and a counter.

City Notes

The Horticulture Crew began fencing trees at the Lake Park to prevent beaver damage. This will be done on the North Shore in the lawn areas and on the South Shore where there is only a narrow strip of trees between the lake path and the water.

Northway was readied and sediment control established near the ball fields in preparation for hauling truckloads of wet soil from the Greenbrook Lake construction site.

A stockade fence was installed between the Citgo Gas Station and the 10 Court of Southway.

Yellow center line tape was placed on the new asphalt on Crescent Road and parking spaces were painted.

Excess bulbs and annuals were given to citizens on June 16 and the relocation of landscape plantings at Greenbriar began.

Trash and commercial refuse were collected, litter cleaned from City streets and parks and playgrounds and ballfields maintained. Damaged trees and yard debris resulting from Wednesday night's storm were removed. Newly planted trees were watered, flower beds weeded and grass cutting continued.

Police cars and Public Works' trucks were serviced and repaired plus the Recycling Coordinator's vehicle was painted. Also the Recreation Department's vans were readied for the summer camp season. Lastly, the Recycling Center was cleaned every day.

Jennifer Foley attended a COG Recycling Meeting on Waste Flow in the Mid-Atlantic Region.

On Wednesday, June 25, 10.71 tons of mixed paper and 3.3 tons of co-mingled cans and bottles were recycled. This resulted in a $690 savings to the City of the landfill tipping fees.

Parcels 1 and 2, and who has investigated conservation easements, added that if a trust fails, enforcement of the easement is transferred to another organization.

In response to a question from Bram, Hruby said that an easement cannot be taken back by the property owner. However, under some circumstances an easement can be amended if the property owner can prove that circumstances have changed. However, she said, a trust will generally not consider an amendment unless there will be a net increase in the amount of protected land. Whoever is granted the easement, Hruby noted, that whatever occurs on the land must be in keeping with the easement agreement. Thus, property owners must carefully look into their future needs before granting an easement.

Other Options?

Bram and Councilmember Thomas White were interested in pursuing whether council had other options to protect the land in perpetuity. Bram in particular was doubtful that other levels of government would continue to support strict conservation principles. White expressed a desire to fully investigate the city's own options.

Director of Planning and Community Development Celia Wilson suggested that there may be some ways that the city could prevent private development, such as by creating a land-locked parcel (without access to roadways), but that such steps would not protect the land if a future council wished to develop some of the property for its recreational value. Later, Councilmember Judith Davis noted that in its discussions of the property, council has not heard from representatives of the groups that would like to see additional ballfields in the city. Past councils had planned to develop several ballfields in part of the area under consideration for the easement.

Councilmember Edward Putens was willing to explore options other than the easement, so long as council did not lose sight of the objective. We do not know what will happen in the future, he said, sometimes the city is "its own worst enemy."

All five councilmembers voiced support for protecting the land "in perpetuity." The next steps include an investigation by the city's planning and legal staffs of possible alternatives and a meeting with representatives of the Maryland Environmental Trust.

Sunnyside Follow-up

The Sunnyside Ave. Task Force of the College Park Bicycle Coalition met on June 16, to work toward an agreement making the plans for widening the roadway bicycle-friendly. A follow-up meeting will be held on the 14th floor of the BARC library at Sunnyside and Rhode Island Ave., on Friday, July 18, at 9 a.m. to finalize the agreement.

Swim Team News

by Amanda Baldauf

If you live in the vicinity of the Greenbelt Aquatic and Fitness Center, you may have noticed increased traffic and noise around the outdoor pool at 6 a.m. Our swim season has begun! Though some afternoon practices were held, morning practices began the day after Prince George's County Public Schools let out for the summer. And our dedicated swimmers went right to work, preparing for our first meet against Strathmore Bel Pre Swim Team on June 21.

The swim team continues to be led by long-time coaches Gail Drake and Sarah Lofgren. Assistant coaches are Amanda Baldauf, Lynn Hull, Rena Hull, Aruna Inversin, Christy Logan, and Isaac Rehner.

The Greenbelt Swim Team, though a smaller team this year, continues on its winning path. The final score against SBP was: GM - 296, SBP - 243. Swimmers swam excellent times and had several exciting races, including the girls' graduated relay team which pulled a great come-from-behind victory!

Triple winners for the SBP meet include: Casey Connor, Ryan Hardy, and William Kim. High point winners were: Ben Kepler, Maresa Like-Mathews, and G.R. Stewart (13 points each), Kate Hilton and Joseph Lau (11 points each), and Amanda Baldauf, Jill Lau, and Joe Logan (10 points each). Team records were set by Maresa Like-Mathews in 8 and under girls freestyle and Casey Connor in 13-14 girls breast-stroke.

Golden Age Club

by Dolores Capotosto

The next meeting of the Golden Age Club will be on July 9. All meetings are from 11 a.m. to noon, and are held in the Multipurpose Room of the Recreation Center.

Members give a "big thanks" to Valerie Siegel, a local attorney, who spoke at the June 25 meeting, opening with a pun-skits about lawyers, she used Golden Agers Rachael Algaze and Tom Moran as actors. Then she talked about how to select a lawyer and situations in which seniors might need a lawyer. Siegel's gift of relating to an audience made the Golden Agers more comfortable about attorneys.

It was announced that Hank Irving will choose (confidentially) the children who will attend Camp Pine Tree as a result of the club's donation of the yard sale profits.

Greenbelt Landmark Quiz Answer

In Tugwell's mind, there were to be 3,000 greenbelt towns, all built outside urban centers characterized by stable employment trends and all separated from one another by belts of green. The greenbelts of each town ultimately would join to form continuous permanent open spaces around cities, thus preventing the "string development" that was characterizing current growth. Greenbelt towns were seen as the answer to congested, unsanitary slums; poor farming practices and inadequate markets; and mass-produced, bleak subdivisions being erected by private developers outside major cities.

City Staff Bids Farewell To Barbara Havekost

by James Giese

City trucks and cars filled the parking lot at Schrom Hills Park as current and former city employees and family members celebrated Barbara Havekost's retirement as Greenbelt's human resource officer at a picnic lunch on Friday, June 20. Havekost's last workday will be at the end of the month. She was first employed by the city as a clerk/typist 27 years ago. At the time she was a single parent raising four children. Over time, her responsibilities grew. First she assumed the duties of a purchasing and personnel clerk. She also earned a Bachelor's Degree from the University of Maryland University College. As the size of the city government grew and her responsibilities increased, she specialized in personnel management, first becoming assistant personnel director and then human resources officer.

At a brief ceremony, City Manager Michael McLaughlin presented Havekost with a check from the city as her retirement gift. He also gave her a videotape prepared by Public Information and Communications Coordinator Beverly Palau of city employees and officials extending their greetings and best wishes upon her retirement. Noting that the city employees would probably miss her more than she would miss them, he particularly noted that they would miss her "nudging, nagging and cajoling" as she pushed them into doing the right thing.

County Councilmember Audrey Scott presented a proclamation from the County Council congratulating Havekost on a (job well done," and wishing her happiness in her retirement. Recreation Director Hank Irving gave her a departmental cap. In giving a card and gift from the finance department and personnel employees, Doris Hayes, accounting supervisor, noted how much she would personally miss Havekost. "You've been like a mother to me," she said to which Havekost responded "Whether you wanted me to or not."

Carol Leventhal declared that "it had been an absolute pleasure for me and everyone on staff to know you these many years."

Presenting a gift from that department, she noted that Havekost had "led the way in knowing what to do for others." Handing the retiring employee a hydrangea plant, a gift from the Public Works Department, Kenneth Hall, superintendent of operations, thanked Havekost for the many years "you have given advice for all of us."

Janet Parker noted that Havekost, as staff liaison, had been largely responsible for keeping the Community Relations Advisory Board operating.

Acknowledging her gifts and good wishes, Havekost told the group that she was not going to miss coming to work, but that she would miss the employees. Referring to her declared intent to be a full time grandmother, she declared, "I am going to enjoy being with shorter people, shorter than I am."

Retired employees at the picnic were: Doris Cottington, secretary to the city manager; Dorothy Lauber, city clerk; Betty Lehman, executive secretary to the recreation director; J. Paul Williams, purchasing assistant and James Giese, city manager.

the curb. Residents must either walk across the uneven turf to the street to enter a car or make the long walk to a street crossing east of the library, Hinostroza said. Either option is difficult for persons with physical handicaps.

Thus she also recommended a sidewalk along the street curb to make it easier to enter a car. Currently some 40 per cent of the residents in the two buildings are over age 60, she pointed out, and four per cent are in their 70s.

City Manager Mike McLaughlin suggested the possibility that the city might apply for block grant funds to finance construction of such sidewalks. As usual, however, petitions and requests are not acted upon at the time they are made. Mayor Bram assured Hinostroza that the request would be carefully considered.

Greenbelt CARES

The staff of Greenbelt CARES gathered on Sunday, June 22 at Carol and Allan Leventhal's home for their annual picnic. CARES' new crisis Intervention Counselor Dana Rabois met with the Greenbelt Police Department Command Staff on June 25. She was given a general orientation of the police department. Plans were made for her to participate in a ride-along later in the week. The guidance office staff at Eleanor Roosevelt High School took Wendy Wexler of CARES to lunch. She was given some potted flowers in appreciation of the work she has been doing in facilitating Discussion Groups during the school year. Judge Herring completed the summer session of the free babysitting course offered to students completing grades 5-8.

Mentors for Mothers

Parents Anonymous of Maryland is looking for caring, nonjudgmental adults to serve as volunteer mentors to teen mothers in Prince George's County. Mentors can make a difference in a motivated young parent's life while helping her learn to become a good parent, stay in school and become self-sufficient. All it takes is four hours a week. To become a P.A. Volunteer, call the Prince George's County office at 301-808-5681.

Parents Anonymous provides thorough training, back-up and support groups for volunteers. P.A.N.D.A. (Parents Aides Nurturing and Discovering with Adolescents) mentors visit teen parents weekly in a home-based program.

COLDWELL BANKER INTRODUCES BLUE RIBBON AWARD PROGRAM FOR HOUSES IN MOVE-IN CONDITION

GREENBELT, Maryland, July, 1997 -- Not all home buyers are looking for bargains and "fixer-uppers" -- many want to "buy at home today and move in tomorrow." That's why Coldwell Banker Stevens, Realtors in Greenbelt has introduced its new Blue Ribbon Award Program to identify competitively priced homes in move-in condition and to show sellers how to get their homes that way.

"The Coldwell Banker Blue Ribbon Award Program was created to help sellers sell their houses for the best price in the least amount of time, and to let buyers know which homes in their price range are the "cream of the crop" says Adelle P. Lewis, Manager - Greenbelt Branch. "The program helps sellers look at their house from a buyer's point of view, rather than an owner's. It's designed to decrease the time on the market for exceptional listings in every price range," says Lewis.

To qualify for the Coldwell Banker Blue Ribbon Award, a property must be competitively priced and in move-in condition. It must rate a score of at least 100 of 127 predetermined criteria points as evaluated by a team of three or more Coldwell Banker professionals. Blue Ribbon Award Winners are eligible for special marketing and advertising.

"We expect sellers to experience dramatic results in the average selling time of their home, since Blue Ribbon homes across the country generally sell three times faster than normal," says Lewis.

More information about the Blue Ribbon Award Program is available at Coldwell Banker Stevens, Realtors by calling 301-474-5700.

POLICE BLOTTER

Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

As a woman was walking to her residence in the 6000 block of Springhill Drive on June 21, about 3:30 p.m., she noticed a man sitting in his vehicle. He asked for directions. While giving directions, she noticed he was exposing himself. The woman ran into her building and did not see the man leave the area. He is described as white, mid-30s, black hair, clean shaven, dark complexion, medium build, and driving a 1980's Toyota Camry.

On Tuesday, June 24 about 5:30 p.m. the manager of a retail store in Beltway Plaza noticed a shopper removing the security sensors from merchandise. When the manager approached, the man put back the items and left the store. The manager followed the suspect into the parking lot and was sprayed with a can of mace, but not hurt. The suspect got into a waiting car and fled. He is described as white, age 30, 5'10", blond hair in a ponytail, blue eyes and wearing a red shirt and dark pants. The car was a gray 1987 Oldsmobile with possible MD tags DXS-916.

Hotline on Drugs

The Greenbelt Police Department needs the help of residents. Any citizen with information about possible drug activity in the city is encouraged to call the Greenbelt Narcotics Hot Line at 301-507-6522. Callers may remain anonymous.

A strong-arm robbery was reported in the 9000 block of Breezewood Terrace on Thursday, June 26, at 10:30 p.m. A person making a delivery was pushed to the ground. The suspect demanded the bag with the food, took it and fled. The suspect is described as a white man, age 17 to 20, 5'6", 140 lbs with a bandana over his face, a tattoo on one arm and wearing a white tee-shirt and blue jeans.

A 16-year old Greenbelt juvenile was again arrested for trespassing in the 7800 block of Mandan Road on June 24 at 2 a.m. after officers responded to a complaint of disorderly juveniles. One of the juveniles had been banned from the property and later arrested for trespassing. The youth was released to a parent pending action by the juvenile justice system.

On June 23 about 6:30 p.m. officers responded to the Springhill Lake Shopping Center, 9200 block of Springhill Lane following a report of a fight with a knife. They saw one person with blood on his hands arguing with another person. When police ordered both to lie on the ground, only the victim complied. The other person fled. The victim told police he had been cut by two persons he did not know, neither was the person who fled. The victim refused to provide any further information. The victim's mother then appeared and refused medical attention for her son.

They both left the area.

School System Lists Registration Rules

The Prince George's County Public School System recently released registration procedures for the enrollment of non-United States citizens, and for language minority United States citizens.

All foreign-born students, pre-kindergarten through grade 12, and Evening High School students, who are in the following categories, are required to enroll through the International Student Guidance Office before being admitted to their local schools:

- all students who are not United States citizens;
- all United States citizens whose primary language is not English; and
- all students whose transcripts are from a foreign country.

The family (or school personnel assisting the family) should call the International Student Guidance Office at 301-445-8460 to schedule an appointment before going to that office. This procedure will ensure that the family has all the necessary documents to register. The International Student Guidance Office will provide students with any other necessary registration papers.

Students already enrolled in the Prince George's County Public School System may transfer from one school to another school within the County without going through the International Student Guidance Office. If the student is enrolled in the ESOL Program, the original school should call the ESOL office at 301-445-8450, with the new address, for the name of the appropriate transfer school.

For more information, contact the International Student Guidance Office at 301-445-8460.

Lynne Slater Is Honored For Work With Women

by Carolyn Price

In recognition of her "personal and professional commitment to the enhancement of women in the workplace," Goddard Space Flight Center recently presented Greenbelt resident Lynne Slate with this year's Federal Executive Board's Federal Women's Program Award.

Slater has lived in the Boxwood section of Greenbelt for two of the fifteen years she has worked at Goddard. She appreciates the community and, she said, "the convenient commute." she came here with a masters in English literature and worked at Goddard for about eight years as an equal opportunity manager in budget and computers. A growing interest in the place of women in the workplace led her to getting another masters, in community counseling, at the University of Maryland, and to her present position.

Slater has learned, as a line manager, that many women have "the feeling they have left part of themselves at home." Her desire to help them feel whole" in their chosen work gave rise to "Around the Table."

The title uses a metaphor from home, but expands on it. "I feel women are present at many tables in their lives, at home and at work," she said. "I want to help them be comfortable at all these tables." The program includes an initial two-day class, as well as a two-day advance class, twice yearly. "The intuitive processing is not validated in our culture," she said, and the program builds women's confidence in their intuition by teaching value-based decision making.

Lynne Slater

the next step broadened the program into an extended support network for women at other NASA centers. The one-day continuing workshops bring women together to develop a network of female colleagues and not let what they have learned get "fuzzy."

In accepting the award Slater said "The work we do in the 'Around the Table' workshop is close to my heart. I feel good about what I do. I feel I am making a contribution."

Volunteers Needed For Blood Drives

The American Red Cross needs Blood Drive volunteers to during the months of July, August and September. Volunteers must be at least 14 years old and able to travel within Prince George's County. Contact Pamela Fogan at 1-800-764-4602 ext. 1 or 3.

Pet Lovers Needed

SPCA Humane Society seeks persons to help with monthly dog and cat adoption days in Greenbelt, Beltsville, Laurel and Bowie. Help is also needed for spring and fall fund raisers and bake sales. Adoptions are publicized through SPCA phone 301-262-5625. The Greenbelt show is the second Sunday of every month at Petsmart, 12 noon to 3 p.m.

Workshop on Self Defense Is Offered

Greenbelt Recreation Department is offering a two day workshop focusing on Self Defense for Women. The workshop is scheduled for July 19 and July 26, from noon to 3 p.m. Nena Messina will teach the class, which is designed for women and girls ages fourteen years and over. Mother/daughter participation is encouraged. Contact the Recreation Department at 301-397-2200 for registration information.

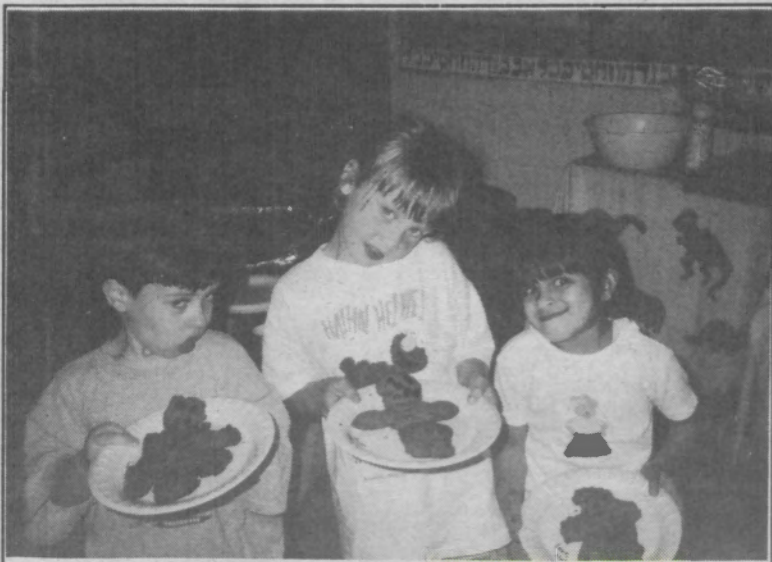

Interpreters Needed

Nature interpreters are needed to provide narrative tours for the public on a 40 passenger electric tram for the National Wildlife Visitor Center. Potential volunteers should enjoy public speaking and have an interest in the environment and nature. Contact Patty Nagel at 301-497-5767.

Gingerbread for Dad
These were no cookie-cutter gingerbread men that the Mishkan Torah Nursery School children made for Father's Day. Each hand-molded cookie was as unique and special as the dad for whom it was made.

Hilo Watanabe, Albert Celich, Matthew Bollinger and Alex Snyder decorate their gingerbread men with raisins.

GREENBELT AQUATIC & FITNESS CENTER

1997 SUMMER CHILDREN'S LESSONS - SESSION II

In-person registration, first-come, first-served basis. All classes have a limit on enrollment. Early registration improves your chances of getting the class you want!! All registrants must sign up at the Greenbelt Aquatic & Fitness Center for aquatic & fitness classes.

REFUNDS: The Greenbelt Aquatic & Fitness Center reserves the right to cancel classes due to insufficient registrants or causes beyond its control. Refunds will be made if classes are canceled by the Center. Other refunds will be made according to the provisions in the City of Greenbelt Resolution No. 65, which also requires that refund requests, for valid reasons, are to be submitted immediately in writing to the GAFC.

CITY RESIDENCY: Greenbelt residents are those who pay taxes to the City of Greenbelt AND are eligible to vote in City elections. That is as it should be as our residents pay taxes to support the Recreation Centers and the Aquatic & Fitness Center in our community. However, just because someone has a Greenbelt address, does not necessarily mean they pay taxes to the City of Greenbelt and are able to vote in City elections. We want to be fair to the people whose tax money supports our programs. If you are not sure that you have a Greenbelt address, are able to vote in City elections, and pay City taxes, call 301-397-2204.

MAINSTREAMING: Anyone who is physically, mentally, and/or emotionally challenged is encouraged to participate in any of the Aquatic & Fitness Center's programs. If you need any special assistance, please call 301-397-2208 or TTY 301-474-1811 and ask for Karen Haseley.
